

(Dr. A. J. Nixon, Bristol, Eng.)

From the Regius Professor of Medicine, Oxford.

24th June, 1912.

Dear Nixon:

I should be very glad indeed to help to put up a suitable tablet to that old reprobate Dover. What took him to Stanway to die?

Kindest regards to your domestic colleague.

Sincerely yours,

W^m Osler.

(Note: Sir William was anxious to put up a memorial to Thomas Dover in Stanway Church, Gloucestershire where Dover was buried.

My "domestic colleague" was H. F. Mole, F.R.C.S., Surgeon to British Royal Infirmary. d. 1917. A.J.N.)
