From the Regius Professor of Medicine,
Oxford.

Sir John MacAlister.

17th. Jan, 1913.

Dear MacAlister,

No, in term I am always tied up on Tuesdays, I thought you knew that. out of term it makes no difference. I do not think it is worth while changing the date for me.

On the whole you should feel very gratified, when you compare January 1913 with the same month three, four or five years ago, and there is a nice feeling in the profession about the Society.

Sincerely yours,
Wm. Osler.
