Locke's Expulsion from Christ Church
Oxford Mag. Nov. 12 1914

* * *

At Sotheby's, July 30, a letter was sold, which had been in the possession of Colonel Sandford, a direct descendant of Edward Clarke of Shipley, the friend to whom Locke communicated Some Thoughts Concerning Education. The Dean and Librarian were fortunately able to secure this, which now rests in the case next to Sutherland's order of expulsion. As it has never been published, and it is of importance in connexion with Locke's life at Oxford, it will, I think, be of interest to readers of the Magazine.
