

To Dr. Geo. Dock - "full time"

From the Regius Professor of Medicine, Oxford.

2, June, 1914

Dear Dock,

The problem is very difficult. I hope you will be able to solve it to your satisfaction. The danger will be of getting 'half baked' clinician who do not know chicken pox from measles. Ewald tells me that there is a good deal of growling in Germany about the ignorance of some of the younger men of ordinary clinical details. In the Introductory Lecture, which I am giving at Jefferson this year, I shall sound a warning note to the average school.

We are very busy.

Love to the family,

Ever yours,

W^m Osler
