

From the Regius Professor of Med.
Oxford.

To Sir John MacAlister.

16, June, 1914.

Letter (Typewritten).

Dear MacAlister,

I see there is a copy of the Celcus at the Pembroke Sale, June 20th, so that, if you failed in Italy the other day, we might send a bid.

I am writing to Spielmann. For the Vesalius Exhibition we could borrow the Tintoretto copy from Christ Church and probably the College of Physicians' Van Calcar. It will be easy to get a complete set of the editions, and we could have a nice printed catalogue, and with Spielmann's photographs, etc., it will make a most interesting exhibit. On Spielmann's return you and he please dine with me some evening.

Sincerely yours,

Wm. Osler.
