

CUS417/118.68

Oxford

12, October, 1914.

Dear J. William,

Very glad to get that bundle of reprints, which will be bound and go on my shelves in good company.

Do prepare that article you mention, as it will do good.

Things here are going very satisfactorily. It is wonderful how quietly and peacefully people are going about their work. Everyone expects it to be a long job. Of course, there will be disasters and setbacks, but, so long as England holds the seas, we can stand anything.

Give my love to Mrs. White.

Sincerely yours,

W<sup>m</sup> Osler