

(letter to Edward Millburn, Esq.)
(typewritten)

5, January, 1915.

From the Regius Professor of Medicine, Oxford.

Dear Ned,

So glad to hear that O'Conner thinks your eyes are better. We had a busy Christmas - two or three of the fellows from the Contingent on Salisbury Plain, where they are in a sea of mud. The weather has been most unfortunate. We have never had so much rain. The whole country is soaked. Things are looking brighter here, and it is a great matter that at the beginning of the sixth month Germany has not even finished with Belgium. But it is a devil of a mess! Revere has been in the Training Corps here, and is now joining the Universities and Public Schools Regiment.

Love to Mrs. Millburn and the girls.

Sincerely yours,

WM OSLER
