My dear Osler:

I have just been informed by the Adjutant General's Office that the papers you asked for concerning reports by our officers during the Manchurian War have just been mailed to the Paignton Hospital through Major Squires, our military attaché in London. Our sympathy goes out to you in your work in England and we wish you every success.

I met Welch day before yesterday at a meeting of the Rockefeller Foundation. He is looking very well again, very much better than he did a year ago, and was in excellent spirits.

Mrs. Gorgas joins me in kindest regards to Lady Osler and yourself.

Sincerely yours,

W. C. Gorgas.
