

(From Mr. Enoch, secretary's, notebook)

(To Dr. Coles, Oxford)

Apr. 27, 1915.

Dear Coles:

They surely would not have converted to your scheme if it had not already been adopted in other countries. What we ask, I think, is not unreasonable, that the tuberculosis work should be in the hands of special clinical officers who will devote their whole time. That is what the Association and the National Tuberculosis Society and the Parliamentary Commission all ask for.
