From the Regius Professor of Medicine, Oxford.

7, June, 1915.

Dear Stokes:

Delighted with your two volumes, and it is a great credit to the Press.

I am horribly ashamed not to have got that book ready yet, but it is under way. I do not suppose you ever suffered from the malady of intellectual stasis.

Your Yale men here are doing well.

With greetings and regards. I hope the lassie is thriving.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed)
