(hand-written)

Dear Adami,

So sorry to hear that Yates is not so well. I am still housed with Influenza. I was better and out, but not so well to-day and I am afraid of the train journey. I wired Russell to get James Mackenzie to see him again. Yates liked him and he is a good sensible fellow.

Come and see us before long. Best wishes for 1916.

Sincerely yours,

Wm. Osler.
