

From Dr. Malloch's Journal.

Sunday, Jan. 16, 1916

Cases at Somerville and Radcliffe, also cases at Wingfield. Two tables at lunch in the diningroom. Sir Wm. exhibited Taliacotius book on plastic operations on nose - old and very curious. Sir Wm. told Kenny and me of old times in Montreal, and Mrs. McIntyre at Maternity Hospital - old Scotch woman. Their trick on one man (?Alloway). Mrs. M.'s sudden death and autopsy. The story which Sir Wm. turned from himself to Tom Roddick, and of also one of one of Weir Mitchell's patients who threw her arms about W.O.'s neck, and how W. O. told story on another doctor later.
