FROM THE REGIUS PROFESSOR OF MEDICINE, Oxford.

Dear W.S.

I cannot find the notes of Mabel Brunt- sorry, as it is always so interesting to track these old cases we are seeing much of interest at the new Heart Hospital at Hampstead. The Vasco-motor skin reactions are remarkable- so many of them are anaemic- La Ligne blanche of the French. This vagotonic symptom complex of the Germans is an old friend with a new face & name. Verdun is grand- looks hopeful- but 'tis a slow job. Zpln's are doing much good, stirring the people. Useless slaughter of civilians- no serious damage yet t any mil. organization Love to Sister Susan. I hope she is better.

Yours

W.O.

The Baldwins had a narrow escape. The daughter is not out of danger yet
