Dear Garrison:

Thanks for the memorandum. I think the decision you have come to is wise. I will talk with MacAllister and Pflarr about the cards from the Library of Congress. When matured, I could put a note in the Lancet and British Medical Journal calling the matter to the attention of the smaller libraries and private collectors.

I hope the new addition is progressing. You must feel very gratified with the success of the book. I often think what a pity it is the dear old doctor had lived to see it.

All goes well in spite of the hard whacks.

Sincerely yours,

Wm. Osler
