

(Cf. letters of Nov. 30, 1914; Oct. 30, 1916; Apr. 12, 1918)

(To Prof. Walter Libby, Pittshurgh)

(typewritten)

FROM THE REGIUS PROFESSOR OF MEDICINE, OXFORD.

26 March, 1917.

Dear Libby:

Congratulations on the book*, which is really splendid and should prove a great success. I had that Introduction terribly on my mind, but now I see the book in print I am awfully glad that worries and cares and work prevented my writing it. 'It is a good wine that needs no bush.' I shall go over it carefully and hope to be able to send a good review to the Lancet or the British Medical.

Sincerely yours,

W<sup>m</sup> Osler.

(hand- P.S. It is well worth all the trouble & care & time you spent on it.
writing)

*Libby's "An Introduction to the History of Science", Mar. 1917.