

From the Regius Professor of Medicine, Oxford.

3, v, 17.

Dear Garrison:

That is a fine tribute to Lauder Brunton. You have made him the text of a nice essay. Please send a copy to his son. Sir Lauder Brunton, Engineering Dept., McGill College. It will be forwarded to him.

How is the book? I am looking forward to it. Perhaps it has been torpedoed. We are all so stirred about America. There will be worries and troubles ahead. I hope the newspapers will have plenty of self-restraint. The last Vol of series II has just come. What a work! You may well feel proud to have been associated with it. How is poor Klebs? This last blow will paralyse him I fear, but the hyphenated have done as I thought - come into line. I doubt if there will be much trouble. You know MacPhail. I enclose a slip from him - Splendid fellow - he has stuck at his pit with the transport - tho he must be 55. The boy has been all through this ~~Ames~~ business - but keeps well. Of course we have been very anxious. Ance

Love to you all. No copy of yet.

Yours,

W. O.

+ will send this if desired by.