Two days after Peavee fell he was in the Auckland Home walking down the corridor he ~~saw~~<sup>met</sup> his friend & neighbor Whitlock on the corridor and called out "Hello Whitlock" his joyous boy. W. was somewhat sluggish and not talking as he said "who does you mean". "Oh Hugh!" Hugh was W's boy in Palestine was - who W. had always been a friendly tenant. "It has been send down from Syria to Egypt and a trace of desecration but his belief. Be sure to let me know if I can do anything further."

You'd be glad to hear when from Peavee fell I have the great sales feature in Kermit he was with his friends etc. etc. around it a comfort, if there anything else do for Hugh let me know. <sup>from Hugh's wife</sup> "Hugh's wife with an aching heart, and W. still wonders at him - not a trace of evolution - a great lesson in manliness."
