And County Hospital, Oxford.
Nov. 5th, 1917.

Dear Sir William:

Miss Rose Yockney trained here from 1903 to 1906. She was not a very good Nurse, but was very willing and good-natured. At the time when she left, ten or eleven years ago, I should not have thought of giving her an appointment in this Hospital, but I heard that she did well at Milbank.

From what I knew of her as a Probationer I should not have thought her suitable for the post of Matron.

Yours faithfully,

Agnes Watt.
