Dear Jacobs:-

I have sent word at once to Bethel & will see the picture when I go to town on the 15th. It should be worth £100. If reasonable, I will cable you. Prices keep up in a remarkable way. A Rabelais letter at the Morrison sale brought £250. There were a few Jenner items of which no doubt Maggs notified you. I have picked up a few good things, but nothing special - the ed. prin. of Averrhoes, 1482, the best. W. J. Morton sent me some of his father's original pamphlets, &c. which makes my anaesthesia section much stronger.

We see many Americans now as they pass thro-every few days some one calls up. Grace has been working so hard. Sue Chapin has charge of the distributing office of the American Red Cross in London and has found just the job for her good business qualities. We expect Billie Francis today on leave. Tom Futchter will have given you all the latest news of us. He and McCrae did splendid work at Orpington - put the medical side of the Hospital unit A 1 condition.

Love to Mrs. Jacobs. I wish you were with us in this heavenly spot.

Yours ever,

W.O.
