Dear Jacobs:-

The Shelly Letters have just come - many thanks for remembering my collection. Dear Isaac was so interested in it & had become such a keen student of S. The Every-man's Library copy of the Poems he carried everywhere. He would have loved this book. I hope to put all his books together - <sup>for a</sup> ~~to~~ some purpose. His last leave was spent arranging them & his accession book is most interesting - the pen-drawing of the title pages his own design. The catalogue, & the books he would have loved bring his loss home to our hearts every hour.

I am so disappointed about the Smith picture. I have asked Thompson to look at it; but I fear 'tis a copy.

Yours ever,

W.O.

Love to Mrs. Jacobs.
