

Tray's Hill Hornsey Lane, London, N.6

Dear Dr. Harvey Cushing.

Of the many letters I had from Sir William Osler, but two chance to survive.

No 1. (I was anxious to improve the boys library at Epsom Medical College by the addition of the most representative recent books in Natural History and General Literature, and as no funds were available for the purpose I appealed to nine other medical men to associate themselves with me in putting down £10 each for the purpose: Osler's reply is characteristically encouraging and generous.)

Dear Crawford

'Tis a privilege! I enclose £10 (whether you get the other eight or not). I think I can pick out a number of interesting volumes from my boy's library. On my return I will let you know

Yours sincerely
