Dear Hurd,

Many thanks about the Brook paper which I should be very glad to have cut out of the Bulletin, as it is one of exceptional value. What a genius he was! All well and very busy seeing many of these good fellows before they return.

The American hospitals in England are to be, as far as possible, demobilized. Washburn has been splendid and his lieutenant, Young, of the Presbyterian. Bob Johnson's son is a trump- everyone here delighted with him. We are beginning to get students back and the cadets and flying corps men leave this week.

Love to you all.

P.S. Welsh will perhaps have told you about our plan for a memorial library in English literature to Revere. He had begun a very interesting collection to which I will add my special one, - medical books, the Shellys, Fuller, Keats, etc. I would like it managed by the students of the English literature department, but the President and Welsh ^c will the Professors may make any arrangements they think best.

I am getting on with my general catalogue and pick up a few good items every week. I hope they will get on now with the Hurd Library building. I will pick out my heart and blood pamphlets and books and send out to it. The aneurism section will be exceptionally good. I will have the cards sent out so that any duplicates may be kept here.

Yours sincerely,
