

Extract from A. M.'s diary 17 Feb '19 Mond.

"W. O. showed me a paper in English Literature Honours sent by Egerton Porrich Davis to 2 girls at St. Thelma's in 1911 - most interesting. He is going to keep it.

- I. In the poem beginning "I sing the progress of a deathless soul" justify the author in evolving views for stating its progress in an apple.
- II. How far did Democritus Junior draw upon Democritus Senior for the foundations of his immortal book.
- III. Trace the influence of the life of Thomas Hobson on John Milton.
- IV. Write and justify an imaginary love letter from Damaris Cudworth to John Locke.
- V. Write a bibliographical essay on the vicissitudes of Queen Mab.
- VI. Sketch the life of Rose Aylmer and explain physiologically how Charles Lamb was able to live for weeks on Landon's verses to her.

Egerton Porrich Davis

Senior Examiner

N.B. Sir William got some girl to paint a picture of Locke making love to Damaris Cudworth in the garden of Christ's College (The father Cudworth was Master of Christ's). The picture is at 13, Nothem Gardens

A.M.