

is to read the chief paper, and I am arranging an exhibit.

COS 417/127.134
Feb. 24. ✓

Dr. Robert Hutchison, London.

P.-G. scheme.

I like your idea about a big hospital for the Post-graduate work, and it has already been discussed and the suggestion made that one of the Schools should take it over. Under the reorganised London University this should be possible. The main business at present is to get an organisation which will act as intermediary between the students and the teaching bodies and provide them a home. Under our present scheme the individual teaching bodies make any arrangements they wish about their Courses.