

COPY.

CUS417/128.25
(Dr. George H. Simmons)

From the Regius Professor of Medicine, Oxford.

13, Norham Gardens,

14th April, 1919.

Dear Simmons:

Yes, indeed, with pleasure; and I thought of asking you to let me have a couple of columns on July 13th for a message to my many friends. I will see that the photograph is a good one.

Things are going pretty well here, and there is very little distress in the country. I am afraid it is going to be a pretty hard matter to satisfy the Italians and to clean up the Eastern question. Those small nationalities are looking to America, but I can readily understand how loth she is to take on a permanent job in Europe.

I read the Journal every week, and you may be interested to know that not a single copy missed during the War. I am sending a contribution to the Archives of Neurology on this new encephalitis.

There's no chance of seeing me over this Summer - I cannot understand how the rumour got about.

Sincerely yours,

(Signed) Wm. Osler

P.S. Those two fine fellows, Haven Emerson and Wilson, of Rockefeller, have been here for week-end.

Rocheester