

(From Miss Smart's notebook)

(To Colonel Adami)

Apr. 25, 1919.

CUSA17/128.44
Ap. 25.

To Colonel Adami.

D.G.
dinner.

I have been in bed for a couple of days with an infected tooth. I am all right again now - such an aggravation, as I had to have Rolleston take charge of a dinner which I gave to Graham, and to which I had asked all the Professors of Medicine in the U.K. in order that they might see the first whole-time professor in their subject, at least in the Empire.