

C O P Y

V.VII.19

13, Norham Gardens,
Oxford.

Dear G.C. (Shattuck)

That Report (to hand today) on Anatomy is most interesting. I wonder who I. Bragen Davis was who wrote it? He must have been well coached. It is an admirable statement - really worth reprinting. Why not make a note on it for the Annals of Medicine and send to Packard?

The J. B. Flint may have been of the Northampton family - the same I believe as Austin. It makes a valuable addition to my Dissecting-room literature. All well. Have just parted with over 180 American students who have been here for the term. Such a fine group. Love to F.C. and G.B. and your family. They are birthdaying me next week in London.

Yours sincerely,

Wm. Osler.