Dear Dr Wood.

I got your letter on my arrival here on Thursday night but was too ill to attend it — on Sat I underwent a operation (The Dr had to send for another in the middle of it, which means complications.) so I feel rather like a whipped dog. I thought you did not quite realize the number of America publications! Now about those English journals "Poultry" does not issue a Year Book. Then there is "Poultry News" published by F. Hewitt & Son Ltd & Chatan St Leicester. — you could get further particulars from them. London

agent C. Crane 44 Fleet St

Also there is a new publication

"Fowls for all" issued for 58 Fleet St

You should look up the old (defunct)
"Fowls" a great force in its day also Poultry Illustrated Monthly that lived before the war.

You should also have the Harper Adams ^{agr. College Newport Salop.} (monthly report of laying trials & general Poultry News) I think it is called Poultry Journal.

also the weekly Nation Utility Poultry Journal - their office is quite near you 3 Vincent Sq. You had better see the Editor W. Watson a friend of mine who probably has all the facts you want in their library, if he is not in see Mr. Robinson a old stager in poultry & a perfect gentleman.

What about the club year Books there are several?

Yours S. V. Forrest.

Dear Dr. Wood.

As I cannot get at my boxes I cannot lay hands on ~~either~~ either the Irish or Scotch Poultry papers. But you ought to be able to get particulars of Poultry & Pigeon papers also year Book. from

J. Hevin, Church Place Portadown Ireland.

who is the Sec. of Irish Fanciers Association also

J. Hevin (is this a coincidence or the same person?)

Abbey Poultry Yards.

Newmills Fife Scotland.

Who is the Sec. of

Scottish National Poultry Club.

T. Lawrence Seawall Hawick

Sec Scottish Exile Hower Club

Would know about Scotch Pigeon Literature.

See J. T. Dixon 1. Frankfort Place

see Irish Fantail Club ^{Rathmines Dublin} would know about Pigeon papers there

Now about year Books

most specialist clubs have issued year Books at some time in their history untill funds gave out! But probably there are not more than about half a doz. that are still issuing the regularly. If you care to send the ^{clubs} a circular letter I could supply you with a list - but it will probably surprise you to hear that there are to-day more or less alive some 82 pigeon clubs and about 120 separate Poultry, Ducks, + Bantam clubs - this is not country clubs to help local Exhibitions but only clubs that are specialist clubs to foster each variety like. Leghorn Club - Orpington Club. P. Rock Club etc. I think you will find a complete library of these club books at the office of the parent Club called The Poultry Club 3 Ludgate Broadway, London. Ask for Mr. W. Rice you will find him very obliging - use my name. Thanks for stamps but don't trouble about the future. Yours. S. O. Forrest tasked for further suggestions

Dear Dr. Wood.

Enclose a list chiefly from memory but I don't think there is much missing, it ought to put you on the right road. A request (10c each) for a copy of each or a form for the Editor to fill out would be the only satisfactory way of getting full particulars.
There may be more Canadian journals. Understand you have the English - six or seven^(possibly) published in England one in Scotland

Ans Aug. 15. 21. packed for more English

and one I took & a host of Defunct ones that were valuable in their time. Like "Poultry Monthly" "Fowls" etc etc.
How about the Specialist Club year Books? like The U. V. year Book published with illustrations to since 1903. There is about a half Doz still being issued annually.

I shall be only too pleased to give you any other help I can. Will be here for another 2 or 3 days then at Tffley Oxford.
yours truly
