

BLACKER

My dear Jones

You have here Bruce Jones' answer to my note to him — It might have been better — or worse

He will do about right —

I referred him to Lyell, Huxley, and some other (forgotten) person as vouchers for your lectures —

I did not know that the lecturers were so early engaged — or I had forgot — please to pardon me —

I am on the point of completing my Thesaurus Carbonif. — for which I have received from abroad east & west — large communications

You would much oblige me on my return home by looking over my Devonian and Carbonif. Crustacea —

And also by telling me how to publish the Devonian Thesaur. — for £120-150 —
The

will be so small that I look upon that sum as lost by the publication - I have so many weak relations to give to - that I have to be very careful -

With my very kind remembrances to Mrs Jones - if she recollects seeing any such person (I remember her well) I am

The Crown Hotel my dear Jones
Harrogate yours faithfully
Sept 2/72 J. I. Bigsby

I saw M. De Verneuil in July - in Paris a poor
- poor gentleman - He gave me a little good information - back In coming across the sea I was so sea sick, as not to recover tolerable health for a month - & in crossing from America James Hall was worse

Pl. on the 6th of Sept - I expect to be at Saltburn on
- to be there perhaps ~~the~~ 3 weeks ^{Leopard Hotel - the Sea.} Yorkshire

My 30 1872

Dear Dr Bigsby

Thanks for your letter

The list of letters is all but full but nothing will be fixed until the first meeting of managers in November.

If my failure occurs I will not forget Professor Anketell Jones's wish

I am
Yrs truly

H Bence Jones

Alfred Jones

BLACKER

My dear Sir

I am sorry I could not answer your letter yesterday.

I think the red tube will be a member of the three on the Protogon or simplest animal forms. Their distribution in time & space & the results of their agency on the Earth's surface

Jan^r 14 21 & 20 I think

I mentioned as the days of lecture from 3 to 4 o'clock.

For every body

Anna Jones

July 25-1868

Anna Jones
author of Life of Sarah 2 vols